

Here are a few stories and social media posts that illustrate some of the things Hawkeye students, faculty, and staff are doing to help during the pandemic.

Two Hawkeye instructors helped assemble face shields for area healthcare workers at Jerald Sulky Company

<https://www.facebook.com/HawkeyeCollege/photos/a.87336583819/10158006112063820/?type=3&theater>

A future Hawkeye nursing student and Vinton-Shellsburg High School student is working on the front lines as a CNA during this time.

http://www.communitynewspapergroup.com/vinton_newspapers/features/shine-on-seniors-leah-bohnsack/article_68a38aa8-bce4-5208-8e67-a476a9136afb.html?fbclid=IwAR2n2cD6EAkAzzFxBcwhfrh2mOUpJm8Dr2yGPnlorrBTLk6PKhRstZHdqhc

Hawkeye student Ty Bellfy turned overhead transparency sheets into face shields for healthcare workers.

https://kwwl.com/2020/04/08/iowa-strong-waterloo-man-turns-overhead-transparency-sheets-into-face-shields-for-healthcare-workers/?fbclid=IwAR2M-UN277QhAMilhn4Zh-IDDW-ybHjXc4gK6al-ZzfUG7_ylemg-DducM

Karen Reynolds, Hawkeye faculty, donated meals and snacks for Hawkeye international students.

<https://www.facebook.com/HawkeyeRedTails/photos/pcb.569209490467811/569209397134487/?type=3&theater>

Hawkeye sport shooter Shelby McDonald along with her mom donated 50 masks to the Vinton Lutheran Home and Mercy Hospital of Cedar Rapids. She also made 8 pillow cases for Quilts of Valor.

<https://www.facebook.com/photo.php?fbid=2570407326613140&set=pcb.2570413379945868&type=3&theater>

Hawkeye Community College instructor Ashley Gracia and Hospitality Management students organized the donation of the food from Mac's Place Cafe and Spectra Industries to Hawkeye international students.

<https://www.facebook.com/HawkeyeCollege/photos/pcb.10157967460893820/10157967460463820/?type=3&theater>

Hawkeye's Auto Collision Technologies program donated PPE to Waterloo Fire Rescue.

<https://www.facebook.com/HawkeyeCollege/photos/a.87336583819/10157956746073820/?type=3&theater>

Hawkeye along with Techworks Campus and the University of Northern Iowa and local manufacturers collaborated to produce face shields for area hospitals.

https://wfcourier.com/news/local/cedar-valley-d-printers-help-plug-face-shield-shortage/article_c5cf8676-5587-5900-89d2-c981ff59a671.html?fbclid=IwAR0w53CffFrgHIm2HdRuNPGb8XRYI-YhrevgFgIriQ_4ob7xKrkjpw0p0os#tracking-source=home-breaking Chris Hanna, Hawkeye Community College workforce development director has been coordinating efforts between schools, local industries and healthcare organizations to respond to the need for PPE. Hawkeye delivered tables and chairs to aid in the production of the face masks.

https://wfcourier.com/news/local/waterloo-carriage-company-volunteers-assemble-face-shields/article_6b939f89-1ed0-5d41-acf0-b31950159390.html?utm_medium=social&utm_source=facebook&utm_campaign=user-share&fbclid=IwAR33mwAGPXFsdD-y8HRyiN-JEDMOrvGkyqiKdVeoZxvnI20tBuG0OgKubWQ

Hawkeye Business and Community Education donated supplies that are usually used in their health classes to North Benton Ambulance and a local emergency room.

<https://www.facebook.com/HawkeyeBusinessAndCommunityEd/photos/pcb.2831908310179269/2831891086847658/?type=3&theater>

Hillary Anniss

Hawkeye Community College | Public Relations & Marketing

319-296-2320, ext 1370

hillary.anniss@hawkeyecollege.edu